

Richmond Dive Club

in conjunction with

SCIENCE MUSEUM OF VIRGINIA

PROUDLY PRESENT

RICHIE KOHLER

Host of the History Channel's Deep Sea Detectives

To speak on The Mystery of the U-Who?

Richie Kohler's passion for technical scuba diving and maritime history has led him to explore some of the most challenging and dangerous shipwrecks in the world, including the Andrea Doria and HMHS Britannic. Searching for lost ships has led him to locate and help name numerous lost vessels. But it would be the exploration and identification of an unknown WWII German U-Boat, the U-869, that would catapult his diving career into the world of television and documentary film making.

Deep-Wreck Diver Richie Kohler,
Of Shadow Divers Fame

Detailed in the NY Times best seller, Shadow Divers, written by Robert Kurson, this exciting story is slated to be a major motion picture by 20th Century Fox. Kohler, along with long time dive buddy John Chatterton, co-hosted the long running History Channel series, Deep Sea Detectives, and has worked on underwater film projects for Paramount Pictures, CBS, PBS, and the Discovery Channel.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 2009, doors open at 6:00 PM AT THE SCIENCE MUSEUM OF VIRGINIA

TICKETS: $20 GENERAL ADMISSION

$10 RICHMOND DIVE CLUB and SCIENCE MUSEUM MEMBERS

TICKETS MAY BE PURCHASED AT THE DOOR OR ONLINE AT:

<http://WWW.RICHMONDDIVECLUB.COM>

RICHIE WILL ALSO CONDUCT A "WRECK DIVING WORK-SHOP"
ON APRIL 12 AT MI HACIENDA RESTAURANT STARTING AT 11:00AM
SPACE IS LIMITED TO 20

TICKETS: $75

GO TO WWW.RICHMONDDIVECLUB.COM FOR MORE INFORMATION

